

Understanding your exam result notification

Multiple choice examinations

If you took your exam on computer, the results notification you receive on the day will indicate your result.

Whether you took your exam on paper or on a computer, a result notification will be posted to you. The result notification shows your result which will be one of the following grades: Pass, Fail, Held—result to be advised or Absent. It shows your score and indicates what percentage of available marks you gained for questions testing each learning outcome of the syllabus, in a table similar to the one below:

Unit	Percentage of marks available gained for each learning outcome
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16
IF1	61	70	83	63	50	80	45	100	100	75	60	50	25	75	n/a	n/a

Please note: You cannot calculate your score by averaging these percentages. Learning outcomes are weighted according to a test specification. The syllabus and test specification can be found at www.cii.co.uk
