Thank you for considering study with the CII. This specification summarises the purpose and the content of this qualification to help you decide whether it meets your learning needs. The qualifications section of the CII website, unit syllabus documents and CII policies provide further detail on the features summarised here.

Qualification overview

The CII Level 4 Certificate in Securities Advice and Dealing is a qualification designed to develop and assess the detailed knowledge and skills required to deliver or support advising on, or dealing in, securities.

Who is this qualification for?

This qualification is particularly appropriate for:

- Anyone seeking to advise on, or deal in, securities.
- Anyone working in a related support role looking to develop their knowledge of the market.

Benefits for individuals and employers

The CII Level 4 Certificate in Securities Advice and Dealing satisfies the FCA's appropriate qualification requirements for those advising on, or dealing in, securities, and develops an in-depth knowledge of investment and securities products, the UK taxation system and considerations for appropriate investment recommendations.

This will enable you to meet the qualification requirements to practise in this area and expand your areas of expertise in your professional practice.

Summary of content

The Certificate involves completion of four compulsory units that cover the financial services market and regulatory context, investments, taxation and a detailed technical understanding of different securities and the skills that need to be applied in advising on and dealing in securities.
